“ The Lord brought Mildred into my life over ten years ago when she came into the office selling her awesome, melt-in-your mouth pecan brittle. She always came in with a bright smile on her sweet face that radiated so much with the Lord's love. You'd never know the physical struggles she had battled or was battling because she never or rarely spoke about them unless asked...she was more interested in knowing how you and your family were doing. Her love for others was limitless. Her fortitude and strength through all the physical adversity she faced for so many years was immeasurable. But above all else, her love and praise for our Lord and Savior through it all was such a testament to all of us blessed to have her in our lives. I love you and will miss you so much my dear and treasured friend, but find comfort in knowing you're now resting in the arms of Jesus.

Love and continued prayers for the family,

Teresa and family
