“ I was fortunate to have known Beth many years ago. I was able to call her a friend. We graduated high school together and were really good friends throughout. I have many fond memories of conversations and cutting up in class. I think our friendship stemmed from both of us being very goofy yet very shy. Our friendship was very important to me. We had not spoken or seen each other for many years. Life's paths often allow for that. One of the best people in this world is now gone and I will miss her.
