“ Wayne was a great neighbor to my family for years. He sold me my first car, a 1970 Honda Civic, then bought it right back from me when we discovered there was a problem with the gas tank. He was stand up like that.

I have to smile when I remember the time when I was probably 9-10 years old, way before we moved down there next door, I somehow managed to slip away from Mom at our house in Raimund and walked all the way across the ridge through Eastern Valley to Mama Sellers' and Papa's house. When I came walking over the hill, this sweaty, dirty, tired looking little boy, Wayne was out working on his motorcycle I think. I don't know if he even recognized me then, because he wanted to know if I was lost and needed help. I just pointed down the road, and told him Thanks!
Rest easy Sir!
