“ I will always remember when Uncle Calvin came to live with us in California. He was so impressed with how we had to drive over the big bridges to take my dad to work every day. I think he would have loved to have stayed with us forever but Grandma Pate said he needed to come home. We had a lot of fun with him. I will miss his phone calls. Rest in Peace Uncle Calvin. I love you.

Thank you, Mr. Burson. I know daddy would have loved to have seen his work buddies when he was able. He spoke of his coal mining friends often and shared a genuine respect for you all.
