

Dr. N. Scott Arnold

July 14, 1952 - August 26, 2013

ARNOLD, Dr. N. Scott, 61, a resident of Mountain Brook, AL, died peacefully on Monday, August 26, 2013. He is survived by his two sons, Harrison (Hap) Arnold, Birmingham, AL and Andrew Arnold, Tuscaloosa, AL; his parents, Wayne and Elsie Arnold, Marco Island, FL; his brother, Steven Arnold, Colebrook, NH; several extended family members, and many friends and colleagues.

Dr. Arnold earned a BA in Philosophy from The University of Pennsylvania and a PhD in Philosophy from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. In 1982, he joined the Philosophy Department at the University of Alabama at Birmingham, where he spent the next 29 years teaching, rising there to Full Professor.

During his career, he published several books with Oxford University Press, including Marx's Radical Critique of Capitalism (1990); The Philosophy and Economics of Market Socialism (1996), and Imposing Values: Liberalism and Regulation (2009).

Dr. Arnold was twice a visiting scholar at the Hoover Institution at Stanford University and The Social Philosophy and Policy Center of Bowling Green State University. He also lectured at the Institute for Humane Studies at George Mason University and the Murphy Institute at Tulane University. In the Birmingham area, Scott was very active in the soccer community, coaching his sons for many years. As a referee, he officiated at hundreds of games and taught others to do the same. Both Hap and Andrew grew up to be excellent soccer players.

A visitation will be held in the Birmingham area on Thursday, August 29th, from 4 until 7 p.m. at McCalla Memorial Funeral Home. A graveside service will be held on Friday, August 30th in Prattville, AL at 11 a.m., from Prattville Memory Gardens. In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be given to UAB Department of Neurology, Alzheimer's Disease Center (www.uab.edu/medicine/neurology/giving).
