“ We lived behind Norma and her mother from the time I was in kindergarten until the fourth grade. Norma had a small dog named taffy and she had nicknames for all of us. We moved in 1985 and when I came home from the Air Force in 2000 I went straight to her house. She had moved but her family was still living there, however, I never made it to visit her. Now I live in New Orleans and just found out she passed away three years ago. I wish I had reached out years ago. Tanya Summerlin Angelo
