Tribute Wall

“ Bobby's mother and my mother are sisters and his dad and my dad were brothers so made us double first cousins. More like a brother than a cousin. We lived next door to each other in Eastern Valley on Ferro Avenue. We grew up together there all our young lives. My mother has a picture of us one Easter with our arms around each other smiling but, little did anybody know that we had been fighting all day... It was very interesting growing up. Mom would always say that he was more like my dad and me and we were more like aunt Billie's children. Bobby, dad and I were always laughing, never worried about anything and would help anyone out if they needed help. I can see that he had a lot of friends and people that loved him. It is very comforting to know that he was a Christian and we will see him again someday soon. REST IN PEACE my brother....I will see you on the other side soon.
