“ Although Billy and Sherry never married they spent 13 wonderful years together. Sherry was as much a sister-in-law to me as all my other sister-in-laws. She was such a sweet loving woman. She loved her children and sisters and brothers dearly. It was always great to see her face light up after she painted a picture. The last time I saw her in the nursing home she hugged my neck and said, "I don't think I ever told you that I love you, but I do." That will always be a precious memory to me. She will be truly missed.
