“ My favorite memories are from the early days..... long, lazy summer days spent piling into the car headed for H.A. Burchfield's pond to work on our 'diving skills'....or sneaking past the guard at the clubhouse for pool time.....or hanging out at the ski ramp on the lake.....or the spades 'tournaments' around the kitchen table that would last for days.....or softball games that would come to a halt because a speeding truck would kick up so much dust.

I watched a movie a few weeks ago and a particular song took me back to those days. Queen's 'you're my best friend' will always bring up those fond memories.

Now you 'fly with the angels and all the stars in the night will shine in your name'.

“ I spent a lot of time with you and even though it has been years since we had a visit I know we would have began right where we left off. I love you my beautiful friend until we meet again. To Martha Joe and all the family I pray God wraps his arms around you during this sad time of life.

“ My favorite memories with Lynne & the gang were the first summers we all shared.... long, sunny days at H.A. Burchfield's pond trying to improve on our 'diving skills'. Sneaking past the guard at the country club headed for the pool. The softball games we used to frequent where the game halted the minute a truck would speed down the road kicking up dust. Running around with Beth, Butch & Buck.

When I hear Queen's 'You're my best friend', it reminds me of those times long ago. I will hold onto those memories..... You will be truly missed. Fly high, angel.
